

As we rejoice over the formation of this new Nation we need to remember that there are serious problems in three states:

- Jonglei - inter-tribal warfare
- Bahr El Ghazal - conflict over oil
- Western Equatoria - raids by LRA terrorists.

First Class Education

The School is flourishing under the wise leadership of Philip Logun, Robert Kei and Beejubiza Frank. Classes are full, the demand for places steady, the staff achieving good results, the Christian Union very well attended and each day starts with worship at 'morning parade'.

The Headmaster and senior staff

The sponsorship programme is one of the most vital contributions. Here are three new bursary students - eager and smart in their uniforms!

Prize Giving

Dr. Margaret Griffin presents the 'Canterbury Cup'

Highlighting the aim of raising the status of girls and women in South Sudan a new cup for the top girl was introduced this year. It was received by Lona Hillary John's mother, (in her daughter's absence.)

The 2011 exam results were very encouraging but the Headmaster would like to see higher overall marks, essential to obtain scarce university places.

New facilities

Three new classrooms, (70% funded by Adelaide Diocese, Australia), were completed in April 2011, ready for the new school year on 1 May 2011.

'New Classroom Block

On 15 November 2011 Bishop Nicholas of Salisbury officially opened the new Science laboratory, (60% funded by 'Christian Aid'.) A great day for the School, and for the Bishop on his first visit to South Sudan. Robert Kei, Deputy Head and Head of Science is showing the Bishop some of the apparatus.

Inaugural lighting of the Bunsen burner

To ensure power supply during, (rather frequent), power cuts a generator has been installed. Overhead fans in the classrooms, and drinking water 'on tap' outside each door, greatly improve learning conditions.

Looking Ahead

The overall security of the school site remains to be upgraded. Money is available to do this but a quotation from Juba for a High Security Fence is awaited! It is also hoped to build a Washroom Block in 2012.

There is now an urgent need for some staff accommodation. Rents in Juba have soared in recent months and staff are struggling with costs. (Beejubiza Frank, our invaluable School Officer, is having to 'camp out' in an empty classroom at the moment.) £1,250 has been sent out to start the necessary work. A 1940's, CMS building, which is currently empty, will be refurbished to provide a home for 3 expatriot, East-African teachers.

A second Science Teachers Workshop is planned for August 2012, and it is hoped to train 2 Lab technicians at the same time. A Workshop for South Sudan English Teachers, in conjunction with the Windle Trust, is also planned for this year. At the Salisbury 'Eyeopener' evening in November the proposal for a Girls' Boarding House was launched. This major project, costing £200,000, is being well received here and in Juba, with gifts already coming in.

Teachers Accommodation

Please pray for:

- lasting peace in Sudan and South Sudan
- students taking School Certificate in March
- teacher training workshops planned for 2012

Give thanks for:

- the completed Laboratory and Classroom Block.
- a busy, happy and well-ordered School
- the Lord's grace and favour to the School

Thank you for your prayers and your gifts. Both are essential to the continuance of the school.
