

From Emma Waters : <https://www.salisbury.anglican.org/resources-library/schools1/re-support/resources-1/re-juvenating-re-inspiring-re-conference-2021>

From Charlotte - Amesbury CE PRimary School : Hi, we are a discovery school, I am new to the RE leader role, where can I access these for teachers please?

From David Rees : Hi Charlotte - these resources are in the community area on the website - once you've signed in it's all there

From Charlotte - Amesbury CE PRimary School : fantastic thank you

From David Rees : if you have any problems please let me know - david.rees@janleverage.com

From Sally Craig : Next time anyone goes shopping in Southampton- I would recommend going early and having lunch at the Temple.

From Sally Craig : Better than Ikea meat balls!

From Caroline : If they believe that everyone is equal, why do they sit men and women separately?

From Emma Waters to David Rees(Direct Message) : Hi Dave, are you able to add some knowledge into Carolines question? I have no idea

From Emma Waters : <https://discoveryschemeofwork.com/crossing-the-bridges/>

From Sally Craig : I am keen to reflect with others on this scheme to see how we can ensure it meets the notion of growth in learning over the Primary years. We need to ensure we reflect on all the major religions as we introduce new themes and concepts. How are we expanding skills over KS2 like we are in other subject areas? Is there any intention to develop this so it is more in line with the style of learning of UC?

From David Rees : Hi - in my many trips to the Gurdwara men and women have sat in amongst each other - I'll check