

SENT

Want to grow transformational leaders in your church? There's a course for that!

'SENT', from the Evangelical Alliance, is a 4-session course designed to help churches equip and encourage the public leaders in their congregations.

With contributors including Amy Orr-Ewing and Ian Marchant, each session comes with 2 films: one from an expert speaker and one from a public leader sharing their experience of leading as a Christian in the public square.

The 4 sessions cover topics on developing a biblical worldview, what makes Christian leadership distinctive, how to build good leadership, and how public leaders can foster transformation.

Each pack features two facilitator's guides and eight workbooks and costs £50.
