

Warning

We have recently been contacted by the National Safeguarding Team with regards to a bell-ringing group called the 'Lilliputter's Guild'.

The Lilliputter's Guild is a church bell ringing group with no home tower or county.

It is made up of a collection of young ringers from several associations across the country, with a proportion of the Guild's membership being under the age of 16.

The Guild falls under the Winchester and Portsmouth Diocesan Guild of Bell Ringers, however they also travel extensively around the country to various churches and cathedrals, to use their bell towers.

Please could you let Jem Carter, our Diocesan Safeguarding Adviser know if you have been visited by this group, or are due to be in the future?

Jem should be contacted before any booking is accepted from the Guild or granting them church access.

You can email Jem, ring his office number 01722 411922 or his mobile 07469 857888.
