

Can our church live-stream?

Good question.

Many churches have decided to have a go at live-streaming or doing a video recording to replace a regular church service, but if you are still wondering how to do that, here are some links to some practical advice to help you.

Please remember that the number of people gathered together for this can only be 2, and you should visibly be observing the social distancing guidelines of a 2-metre separation.

There is advice for churches to livestream services - and how to livestream yourself - here.

There is more information about live streaming and song licensing here.

For a list of digital communication tools for church leaders, communications teams and church staff to refer to during the coronavirus outbreak, click here.