

St Nicholas' Hospital, Salisbury

St Nicholas' Hospital, Salisbury is an almshouse with an ancient Christian foundation situated on the southern side of Salisbury, though within walking distance of the city centre.

It offers accommodation in flats to “persons of good character in need of assistance” as well as a sense of community which is centred around daily worship in the chapel. Some of the flats are suitable for married couples. Residents must be capable of independent living as St Nicholas is only a “hospital” in the ancient meaning of that word.

From time to time there are vacancies and enquiries in the first instance should be addressed to The Master by email to stnicholashospital@btconnect.com or by letter to The Master, The Master's House, St Nicholas' Hospital, St Nicholas Road, Salisbury SP1 2SW or by telephone on 01722 340369 (please leave a message if necessary).
